MEMO ENDORSED

Re: United States v. Adam Bonano, 13 CR 957 (LTS)

Dear Judge Swain,

On September 16, 2019, the parties appeared for a further conference in the violation of supervised release proceedings that commenced earlier this year with the filing of a set of specifications against the defendant on April 4, 2019. At that most recent appearance, the Court further adjourned this case to November 12, 2019 in anticipation of possible developments in a parallel state criminal proceeding in which the defendant is indicted on multiple counts related to his alleged possession of a controlled substance, which alleged crimes underlie the first four specifications alleged against him here. The Government now understands that the parallel state criminal proceeding is set for hearing and trial on December 4, 2019. At this time, accordingly, the defendant and the Government, with the consent of the United States Probation Office, jointly request an adjournment of the conference scheduled for November 12, 2019 to December 17, 2019 at 2:30 PM, a date and time that the Government understands is convenient to the Court.

On December 17, 2019, the Government anticipates that it will have achieved greater clarity with respect to at least the trajectory, if not the actual resolution, of the parallel state criminal proceeding, which involves multiple defendants, and that the defendant and the Government will be in a position either to agree to resolve or to dispute at least certain of the ten specifications pending against him.

Respectfully submitted,

GEOFFREY S. BERMAN
United States Attorney
